Dear Mr. Malcolm G. McClaren:

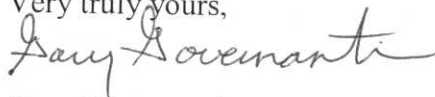

As part of our Contractor Evaluation Program we periodically issue report cards to contractors who have completed projects during the past 36 months. The purpose of the program is to recognize good performance and provide an incentive for all our contractors to strive for excellence.

Con Edison field forces prepare contractor evaluations for individual projects valued at $50,000 or more or every six months for long term contracts. The evaluation considers environment, health & safety, quality, timeliness, administration and conduct of work. Performance ratings are calculated using the weighted average of these five categories. Where sufficient performance information is available, the performance rating may be used when evaluating bids.

Performance ratings are measured on a scale of 1.0 (poor) to 5.0 (excellent) with a rating of 3.0 being satisfactory. Based on the information reported by our field forces, your performance rating is 4.94.

We hope that you will share this information with members of your firm and will continue to strive for excellence. If you have any questions please contact me.

Very truly yours,

Gary Governanti
